SCHOOL STARTS AT HOME

Cheri Fuller

You are your child's most important teacher. Foster a stimulating, creative, and fun environment for learning. Parents are uniquely positioned to lead their child to healthy study habits and an appreciation of lifelong education. You can do it and it all starts at home.

THE SMITHSONIAN

<http://www.si.edu/>

TALKERS, WATCHERS, & DOERS

Cheri Fuller

There are many learning styles, but children usually fall into one of these three: auditory, visual, or kin-esthetic. Each style brings unique perspective and aptitudes. By understanding your child's basic learning style and intelligence gifts, you can tailor a learning environment to specifically suit his or her needs.

THE WAY THEY LEARN

Cynthia Tobias

Gain a better understanding of the learning approaches that will help your children do better in school. Once these approaches are understood, any parent or teacher can become more effective in helping children grasp confusing concepts, stay interested in lessons and utilize his or her greatest strengths.

Managing Stress

HELP FOR FRUSTRATED MOTHERS

Grace Ketterman and Pat Holt

All mothers experience frustration, stress, and difficulty in coping with their children at times. When faced with this stress, many mothers resort to yelling at their kids in order to gain some control over what feels like an out-of-control situation. Practical steps are given for choosing more effective and positive ways to get children to do what they must do. The second part of the book offers commonsense answers to specific questions relating to all areas of child rearing from infancy through the teen years.

MARGIN: Restoring Emotional, Physical, Financial, and Time Reserves to Overloaded Lives, Revised

Dr. Richard A. Swenson

Provides a prescription against the danger of over-committed lives, focusing on margins—the space between ourselves and our limits—in four key areas: emotional energy, physical energy, time, and finances.

THE OVERLOAD SYNDROME: Learning to Live Within Your Limits

Richard A. Swenson

Tired of running around wondering what the definition of "spare time" is? Offers 175 "prescriptions" to counteract stress while restoring time and space to rest and heal. You'll be amazed at life's beauty, not overwhelmed by its blur.

SIMPLIFY YOUR LIFE

Marcia Ramsland

Reduce the mess and stamp out stress. A grace-oriented approach to organizing your home, your time, and your life. Master the "2-minute pickup" method for cleaning any room, create a "personal organizing center" and learn to spot the red flags of disorganization that keep your home from the relaxing place it was meant to be.

WOMEN WHO DO TOO MUCH

Patricia Sprinkle

Are you tired of being all things to all people? Are you overwhelmed by busyness, guilt, and stress? Addresses the needs of women today, showing you how to do less, live better, and accomplish what truly matters. By tackling the larger issues of goals and commitments first, you then are led to determine what God created you to do and focus on doing just that. Also includes tips to help you handle the demands of everyday life, plus quick, simple exercises to help you apply what you learn.
